What Is a Supplemental Needs Trust (SNT) ?

- A way to set aside funds for a person with a disability without jeopardizing vital government benefits (e.g., SSI, Medicaid, Section 8 housing, food stamps).
- The beneficiary does not have direct access to the trust.
- Prevents beneficiary from owning assets that could eliminate means tested government benefits.

Two Types of Special Needs Trusts: Who funded the Trust?

- Third Party Trust are funded with assets belonging to an individual other than the beneficiary (no payback provisions). Other family members and friends of the beneficiary can contribute to an already established Third Party Trust.
- Self-settled (first party) Trusts are funded with assets belonging to the beneficiary, such as a settlement, a direct inheritance or personal savings (payback provisions).

Benefits of an SNT

- The beneficiary may continue to collect benefits: SSI, Medicaid, Food Stamps, Section 8 Housing, etc.
- The trust can provide things to enhance his or her life, such as personal care assistance, transportation, education and recreation.
- The trust protects assets from being claimed by creditors or government agencies.
- The beneficiary is protected from being exploited through the appointment of a trustee.

 - Dental, eye care, or other medical treatments
 - Glasses, hearing aids, wheel chairs

What is a Community (Pooled) Trust?

- It is a trust that is established and administered by a non-profit organization under The New Jersey Community Trust Act.
- The New Jersey Community Trust Act allows the individual, parents, grandparents, legal guardians and/or the court to act as grantors.
- Sub-accounts are pooled together for investment, management and fee reduction purposes.
- A separate sub-account shall be maintained for each beneficiary.
- A percentage of remaining funds are retained by the non-profit to benefit people with disabilities.
- A Pooled Trust can manage both Self-Settled and Third Party Trusts.

- If the account grows to more than $100,000, Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payments will be suspended, but Medicaid remains intact.

ABLE Account Basics

- While the account balance remains below $100,000, gains in the account are not taxed.
